Their Rights to be Protected in the New York Weighership and Else-

New York, in his letter of 10th lime, (published yesterday) to remarking on the matter of sol New York, in his letter of 10th time. (published yesterday) to remarking on the matter of soldiers and sallors on the chief weighership, mentioned Mr. J. W. Kay as being in Washington tuging upon the President and the civil gervice commission the necessity of strictly observing that section of the Revised Statutes which way that ex-abiliers and sallors should have the preference in appointment éc.

A reporter found Mr. Kay as the Bobilt House last night and, is answer to queries put to him, he said: "I am here in the interest of the the Octorans Rights Union and the chims of the vaterans of the war but, though I have seen the President twice this week. I have not considered it necessary to speak to him on the sablect of the chief weightership of New York. This was not requisite, because section 154 kevised Statutes, section 7 of the civil service law, and a leiter of instructions to examining hearth under civil instruction of the civil service law, and a leiter of instruction of examining hearth under civil instruction of the civil service law, and a leiter of instruction of the subject, would seem to leave no doubt an to what the law really way. This letter bears date out. 2, 1884.

The President has so often declared himself in favor of the carrying out of all laws. In the interest of the soldier or salior honorably discharged, and in his own appointments has shown such a conscientions desire to do his duty in that respect, that the question, in view of the sections and letter mentioned, was not letter mentioned, was not letter mentioned, was not letter mentioned, which bediens to the land have the utmost confidence that in the weightership, as in all matters affecting the soldier, the President will require the siricl enforcement and fair construction of legal enactment in their favor, and R would be absord, under such circumstances, to have mentioned such matters to him. I do w

"The 1754th section of the Revised Statutes "The 176th section of the Raylsed Statutes contains this language, viz: 'Persons honorably discharged from the military or naval service by reason of disability resulting from wounds or stekness incurred in the line of duty shall be preferred for anophitments to civil offices, provided they are found to possess the business capacity necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of such offices. Section 7 of the civil service act specially reserves this right of preference to those to whom it belongs under the statute above quoted in civil service examinations. serves this right of preference to those to whom it belongs under the statute above quoted in civil service examinations.

"In the view of the commission, and, it may be added, of the President also, any applicant honorably discharged for such cause who, as the result of an examination, has been placed upon a register as eligible for appointment, should be certified in preference to any other person thereon not entitled to such preference examined for the same part of the service, even though such persons are graded higher, without Such priority in certification, it appears to be hardly practicable to give the preference in appointment which thesems to be the object of the statute to secure. You are requested to act upon this view is making certifications.

The letter referred to by Mr. Kay is as folrequested to act upon this view in making certifications.

"There does not appear to be any authority on the part of an examining board or the coaministon to require the production of the order of discharge as the evidence of the right of preference claimed, and they must, therefore, accept the definite oath of the applicant stating the fact as adequate prima facte evidence.

"It will probably be within the means of the appointing power to require, if desired, the production of such discharge.

"Each certification should, on its face, show any claim of preference made by either person certified, and the appointing officer can, of course, inspect the application paper if he wishes.

"Is all of carrying this view of the matter into effect with the least trouble and the most certainty, the claim of preference stated in an applicant both in the record and in the register."

A Card. A Card.

By some misrepresentation made to the Knights of Labor by the Barber's Union as to our manner of doing business, that order has, at the suggestion of the union, placed a boycott upon our business, in which we are charged with employing seab barbers, working bulow prices, &c., all of which is as false as it is maleious, the fact being that we employ, and have employed, only time-class barbers, paying them salaries far in excess of the rates demanded by the union, and more than prevailing wages in any shop in the city, the latter fact being sufficient proof that we have and always will uphold the scale of prices adopted by the union. We do not wish to be understood as antagonisting the Knights of Labor or any association that will help the barber's cause, but this method of procedure is detrimental to the interest of barbers who are now enjoying higher salaries than they can demand of the union. We have not discriminated against union men nor do we intend to, but what we do want and the public demand is the highest excellence in workmaship, which we are willing to pay for union or no union.
